Heirs of the Earth - excerpts

“Everyone talks about Love, but only a few realize it as a great power, as a great virtue. It gives meaning to life and brings harmony to it. Without love, life is death, and without devotion, life is hell. When a person no longer loves, they die; when they no longer love, they descend into hell. God said to the first man, "On the day you eat of the forbidden fruit, you shall die." This means: on the day you transgress the law of Love, you shall die. Death implies a person's separation from Love. When talking about Love, people see it on the one hand as a manifestation in the individual life of man, and on the other - as a manifestation of collective life. Authors, various writers, novelists, and philosophers examine the questions of life from this perspective. For example, Victor Hugo resolves the internal contradictions in the individual life of man. Tolstoy, on the other hand, resolves a major social issue – the cause of wars, major disputes and misunderstandings between nations. Both of them are right, in terms of their views, in their novels 'Les Misérables' and 'War and Peace' respectively.”

Heirs of the Earth

“And the modern people, same as Tolstoy, wonder what is the reason for the existence of evil in the world. What do soldiers do when they cross a bridge? – In order not to destroy it, they do not walk in rhythm, but walk randomly one or two or three at a time. Based on this law of physics, I say: evil exists because of the rhythmical acts of evil. When soldiers walk rhythmically across a bridge, they destroy it. When many people walk rhythmically in the direction of evil, they create great disasters in the world: earthquakes, floods, etc. In order for evil to cease, for disasters to end, people must renounce the rhythm of their distorted minds and hearts, their consensus on evil acts. They must unite in mind, heart, and will in doing good, in order to turn the Earth into a paradise and to transform their lives into music and singing.”

Sila zhiva, sila zhiva, kazhi mi, kazhi mi, de voda izvira, de voda izvira.

Izvira, izvira, de voda izvira.

Izvira, izvira, de voda izvira.

Kazhi mi, kazhi mi, kazhi mi 2

sladki dumi dve.

Tvoyte dumi dve,

sladki dumi dve.

Note: This song, performed once or twice, is followed without pause by "Tell Your Sorrows" [Skrâbta si ti kazhi.

Living power, tell me where water is springing from. Tell me two sweet words.

Your two words are two sweet words.

Paz mundial

- Soy la paz que anhelo ver irradiada en el mundo.
- Jueves Febrero 19, 2026
- Hoy establezco la intención de crear paz dondequiera que vaya. Esta elección me bendice, pero también tiene el poder de extenderse desde mí hacia los demás hasta envolver al mundo en un abrazo amoroso.
- No me desanimo si no veo frutos inmediatos; permanezco firme en mi propósito. Me comprometo a encarnar la paz, aun cuando quienes me rodean actúan de manera contraria. Mantengo mi corazón esperanzado y sostengo la visión de un mundo pacífico y armonioso.
- Oro y afirmo que la paz está irradiando en todos los rincones de la Tierra, confiando en que muchos otros oran conmigo. Abrazo cada oportunidad de ser un instrumento de bondad, sabiendo que cada acto, por pequeño que parezca, contribuye a difundir la paz en el mundo.
- Sigamos lo que contribuye a la paz y a la mutua edificación.—Romanos 14:19
- Gracias Wini!!!

World Peace (translation from Spanish – Ardella Nathanael)

- I am the peace I long to see radiating throughout the world. February 19, 2026
- Today I set the intention to create peace wherever I go.
- This intention blesses me, and it extends outward to others, until together we wrap the world in a loving embrace.
- I do not become discouraged if my efforts do not bring immediate results; I remain steady and committed to being a peaceful presence, even when those around me act in ways that are anything but peaceful.
- I keep my heart filled with hope and hold within me the vision of a harmonious world.
- I pray and affirm that peace is dawning in every corner of the Earth, comforted by the knowing that others are praying as well.
- I welcome every opportunity to make a difference, spreading peace in the world one act of kindness at a time.
